KATHMANDU

- Patan Durbar Square - is situated at the centre of the city of Lalitpur in Nepal. It is one of the three Durbar Squares in the Kathmandu Valley, all of which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites. One of its attraction is the ancient royal palace where the Malla Kings of Lalitpur resided. The Durbar Square is a marvel of Newar architecture.
- Krishna Temple - The most spectacular temple is the Krishna Mandir ('mandir' in Nepali means 'temple'). There are two Krishna Mandirs in the Durbar Square, both carved out of stone and the one known as Chyasim Deval is the unceremonious one, while all religious rites and festivities take place in the more popular Krishna Mandir that lies opposite the Patan Museum. King Siddhinarasimha Malla built this temple in 1636 AD. King Yoganarendra Malla's daughter, Yogamati, built the other Krishna Mandir or Chyasim Deval in Patan in 1723 AD.
- Kathmandu Durbar Square - in front of the old royal palace of the former Kathmandu Kingdom is one of three Durbar (royal palace) Squares in the Kathmandu Valley in Nepal, all of which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites.
- Hanuman Dhoka - is a complex of structures with the Royal Palace of the Malla kings and also of the Shah dynasty in the Durbar Square of central Kathmandu, Nepal. It is spread over five acres. The Hanuman Dhoka Palace gets its name from the stone image of Hanuman, the Hindu monkey god, that sits near the main entryway. 'Dhoka' means door or gate in Nepali.
- Swayambhunath - is an ancient religious architecture atop a hill in the Kathmandu Valley, west of Kathmandu city. The Tibetan name for the site means 'Sublime Trees' for the many varieties of trees found on the hill. The complex consists of a stupa, a variety of shrines and temples, some dating back to the Licchavi period. The stupa has Buddha's eyes and eyebrows painted on. Between them, the number one (in Devanagari script) is painted in the fashion of a nose. There are also shops, restaurants and hostels. Much of Swayambhunath's iconography comes from the Vajrayana tradition of Newar Buddhism. The complex is also an important site for Buddhists of many schools, and is also revered by Hindus.
- Pashupatinath Temple - is a famous, sacred Hindu temple dedicated to Pashupatinath and is located in the capital of Nepal. This temple is considered one of the sacred temples of Hindu faith. This temple complex is on UNESCO World Heritage Sites list since 1979.
- Boudhanath - is a stupa in Kathmandu, Nepal. The Buddhist stupa of Boudhanath dominates the skyline; it is one of the largest stupas in the world. As of 1979, Boudhanath is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Along with Swayambhu, it is one of the most popular tourist sites in the Kathmandu area.

- Thamel Street - is a commercial neighbourhood in Kathmandu, the capital of Nepal. Thamel has been the centre of the tourist industry in Kathmandu for over four decades, starting from the hippie days when many artists came to Nepal and spent weeks in Thamel. Even though Thamel has been referred to as a "ghetto" by some, many low-budget travellers consider it a hot-spot for tourism.

NAGARKOT

- Himalayas - Nagarkot is 32 km NE of Kathmandu on the northern fringe of the Kathmandu Valley. Nagarkot is famous for its Himalayan views- the Himalayan peaks at sunrise are a magnificent sight to behold. Nagarkot is surrounded by thickly forested hills of pine trees which give you an idyllic scene.

POKHARA

- Phewa Lake - Phewa Tal or Fewa Lake is a freshwater lake in Nepal located in the south of the Pokhara Valley. It is the second largest lake in Nepal the largest in Gandaki Zone. It is the most popular and most visited lake of Nepal. It is the only one lake of Nepal which has temple at the centre part of lake, Natively called Tal Barahi Temple.
- Davi's Falls - Davi's Falls or Devi's Falls is a waterfall located at Pokhara in Kaski District, Nepal. The water forms an underground tunnel after reaching the bottom. This tunnel is approximately 500 feet (150 m) long and runs 100 feet (30 m) below ground level. Thousands of Nepalis visit for recreation and enjoyment. Visitors can try their luck on the luck pond constructed there by throwing and placing the coin on the statue of God.
- Gupteshwor Mahadev Cave - After exiting the Davi's Falls tunnel, the water passes through a cave called Gupteshwor Mahadev or "cave beneath the ground". The Phewa Lake dam is the water source. It is an attraction for tourists and locals.
